District Profile

In the space below, please provide a brief narrative description of your district. Include your district's vision/mission statement and any additional information about the make-up of your district, including grade levels and demographics of students served, in order to provide background and a rationale for the descriptions included in the LEA Plan.

Mission

Launched by a coalition of San Diego civic leaders and educators in September 2000, High Tech High began as a small public charter school serving 530 students. It has evolved into an integrated network of schools spanning grades K-12, housing a comprehensive teacher certification program and a Graduate School of Education. The schools aim to combat the twin issues of student disengagement and low academic achievement by creating personalized, project-based learning environments where students are known well and are challenged to meet high expectations.

At HIGH TECH ELEMENTARY EXPLORER, all students use technology to engage in scientific, mathematical, literary, historical, and artistic pursuits. The curriculum is rigorous, providing the foundation for entry and success at the University of California and elsewhere. Assessment is performance-based: students develop projects, solve problems, and present findings to community panels. The mission of all HTH schools, whether at the elementary, middle or high school level, is to provide students with rigorous and relevant academic and workplace skills, preparing its graduates for post secondary success and productive citizenship. The primary goals of HTH are:

- To provide all HTH students with an extraordinary education, and to graduate students who will be thoughtful, engaged citizens prepared to take on the difficult leadership challenges of the 21st century.
- To improve public education in California by training and preparing educators to teach in and lead innovative small public schools.
- To integrate technical and academic education in schools that prepare students for post-secondary education and for leadership in the high technology industry.
- To increase the number of educationally disadvantaged students in math and engineering who succeed in high school and post-secondary education and become productive members and leaders in the new economy.

Design Principles

HTH is guided by four design principles:

Personalization

High Tech High teachers are committed to a learner-centered, full inclusion approach that supports and challenges each student. Students pursue their passions through projects and reflect continually on their learning and growth. Recognizing that identity development and personal growth occur in the context of community, HTH schools foster relationships of trust, caring, and mutual respect among students and families, among colleagues, and between students and adults. Elements of program design that help to build such relationships include small school size; small classes; student collaborative work; advisories; home visits; teacher collaboration; parent communications; social-emotional learning strategies; and restorative discipline practices.

Integration

At High Tech High we integrate students and curriculum. Teachers recognize the value of having students from different backgrounds working together, and employ a variety of approaches to accommodate diverse learners. The schools articulate common expectations for the development of 21st century skills, the integration of hands and minds, the creation of beautiful work, and the pursuit of important questions through cross-disciplinary approaches.

Authentic Work

HTH students engage in work that matters to them, to their teachers, and to the world outside of school. They connect their studies to the world through fieldwork, community service, internships, and consultation with outside experts. They tackle real-world problems and create work of lasting value for authentic audiences. HTH facilities have a distinctive "workplace" feel, with windowed seminar rooms, small-group learning and project areas, ubiquitous wireless laptop access, and common areas where artwork and prototypes are displayed.

Collaborative Design

HTH staff collaborate to design curriculum and projects, lead professional development, participate in hiring, and share in other critical school decisions, seeking out student experience and voice in each of these areas. With their students as partners, staff function as reflective practitioners, conducting inquiry into equitable teaching and learning, school culture, project design, authentic assessment, and other significant areas. As such, High Tech High is a laboratory for equitable teaching and learning; our schools function as communities of inquiry and continuous improvement.

HTH has used these design principles to develop a common set of learning goals that encourage 21st century learning concepts. Among them include:

Learning Goals (What every student should be able to do.)

- Collaboration (How do I work with others?)
 - In addition to working as a self-directed learner, students draw upon their collective thinking and experience. When students work in teams on projects, their collaboration is an explicit focus for assessment.
- Technology (How do I use technology?)
 - HTH students use technology to problem solve and to enhance their project work.
- Communication (How do I take in and express information?)
 - Students' oral and written communication skills are assessed by HTH faculty, peers, and members of the community. Faculty emphasize student writing across content area as a focus for program development and assessment.
- Art and Design (How do I give shape and form to my ideas?)
 - HTH students study four basic elements of art: history, production, aesthetics, and criticism. They learn how to communicate new ideas through self-expression and develop an artistic understanding of the world.
- Community Ethics and Responsibility (How do I demonstrate good citizenship in the HTH community?)
 - Demonstrate positive and productive citizenship and an appreciation for diversity. Establish a global vision of ethical issues through exploration in science, humanities, advisory groups and community meetings. Demonstrate skills in resolving conflicts through positive, non-violent alternative actions.
- Critical Thinking (How do I think critically?)
 - In all projects and courses, staff and students practice asking these critical questions:
 - perspective: examine an issue from multiple viewpoints
 - evidence: support conclusions with facts
 - relevance: apply knowledge outside of the classroom
 - real-world connection: connect learning in the classroom with the world outside of school through active participation

Schools and Student Population

High Tech Elementary Explorer (HTeX) strives to serve a population of students that represents the racial, ethnic and socioeconomic diversity of the local community. The target composition for each school differs depending on the community, but HTH seeks a high degree of student diversity. Each school strives to seek a student body consisting of a minimum of 40% participation in the National School Lunch Program (NSLP). HTeX serves 350 students in grades K-5. 34% of those students are low income, qualifying for free or reduced price lunches. 10% are English Language Learners and 13% receive Special Education services. We serve a population that is 43% Caucasian, 13% African American, 28% Hispanic, 7% Filipino, 6% Asian, and 3% American Indian, Native Alaskan, Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander.

Curriculum and Instructional Design

HTeX teachers work in teams to create curriculum that is integrated across subjects and aligned with Common Core standards. The guiding pedagogy at HTeX is project-based learning, an approach which transforms teaching from "teachers telling" to "students doing." More specifically, project-based learning can be defined as:

- Engaging learning experiences that involve students in complex, real-world projects through which they develop and apply skills and knowledge
- A strategy that recognizes that significant learning taps students' inherent drive to learn, capability to do work, and need to be taken seriously
- Learning in which curricular outcomes can be identified up front, but in which the outcomes of the student's learning process are neither predetermined nor fully predictable
- Learning that requires students to draw from many information sources and disciplines in order to solve problems
- Experiences through which students learn to manage and allocate resources such as time and materials¹.

At HTeX, project-based learning is a key ingredient to serving a diverse population of students. HTeX students become active participants in their learning and are required to publicly demonstrate their learning through presentations and portfolios, introducing an additional and arguably more authentic element of accountability for quality work. HTH works diligently to provide exemplars of outstanding project-based instruction to its teachers so that all teachers may achieve mastery in HTH teaching practices. An ever-growing archive of projects demonstrating HTH instructional methodologies may be found at <http://projects.hightechhigh.org/>.

Successful project-based learning and indeed success in life requires many social and emotional skills. HTeX teachers weave social emotional learning into all projects and classroom interactions. Students learn to identify, express, and regulate their emotions and to communicate positive and negative feelings in constructive ways. HTeX students learn to solve problems through a step-by step method that is practiced consistently throughout the school.

Assessment and Programmatic Structures

Assessment at High Tech Elementary Explorer

Unlike many traditional public schools, where students progress simply by putting in class time and passing multiple choice tests, HTH schools implement a wide assortment of ongoing authentic assessments. At the elementary school level, HTeX uses multiple measures of assessments to maintain a balanced assessment system. The assessments are linked to grade-level expectations in literacy and mathematics. The goal of assessment is to provide information for:

1. Curriculum planning, determining and planning instructional practices.
2. Special needs and interests of students.

¹ Definition from Autodesk Foundation. See <http://www.k12reform.org/foundation/pbl/pbl.htm>.

3. Feedback to students regarding their individual progress.
4. Program evaluation and accountability.
5. Students to be self-assessors of their own work.
6. Communication to parents and the larger community.

In addition to Standardized Testing the following assessments are used:

- Performance-Based Assessment – HTeX administers performance-based assessments in ways that enable children to demonstrate what they know and what they are able to do. Performance-based assessments include, but are not limited to:
- Exhibits, Demonstrations and Presentations: These projects represent a culmination of the student's learning in curricular areas; they may be written or oral. They may also reflect interdisciplinary themes applied to core curriculum.
- Calendared Classroom Assessments: Teachers design quizzes, problems and exit slips to assess children's progress toward expected outcomes in the project.
- Teacher Prepared Assessment Instruments - Teachers design appropriate tasks that measure understandings and progress toward expected outcomes in the project.
- Student Journals – Students keep reflection journals to record their understanding and thinking skills.
- Formal Assessment Reports to Parents – A formal progress report to parents is sent home two times per year. Students are assessed in projects, reading and math.
- Conferences are conducted throughout the school year and include:
 - Student Led Conferences: These are scheduled two times per year. At these conferences students share samples of current student work, with a self-assessment on each piece. Students also state their goals and expectations for the following trimester.
 - Child/Teacher Conferences: Meetings are scheduled at the parent or teachers' request, to discuss and evaluate a child's progress.
 - Other Conferences – These are scheduled as needed to ensure that the program is meeting the student's needs.

Student success requires producing real work products, solving problems, and making oral and written presentations. Teachers, industry experts, community members, parents, and peers review these efforts. Resources for HTH teachers implementing the alternative forms of assessment practiced at High Tech Elementary are constantly being refined and made available within High Tech High's On-line Resource Center – <http://www.hightechhigh.org/resource-center/> and within the online Project Archive – <http://projects.hightechhigh.org/>.

Grades and Testing

Teachers at HteX prepare mid year and end-of-year report cards to parents that combine rubric scores and narrative comments in reading, writing, math, exploratory subjects and social emotional learning. Students participate in standardized exams such as the SBAC, the California State Standards Test in Science (5th grade) and state physical fitness tests, at 5th grade.

The following table outlines the assessments used at HTeX and the timing of each. All of these methods are employed and reviewed throughout the year inform the curriculum.

Assessments Administered at HTH Schools

Local Measures of Student Performance (other than State-level assessments)

Per NCLB Section 1112 regarding Local Educational Agency Plans, each LEA must provide the following descriptions in its Plan:

A description of high-quality student academic assessments, if any, that are in addition to the academic assessments described in the State Plan under section 1111(b) (3), that the local educational agency and schools served under this part will use to:

- a) determine the success of students in meeting the State student academic achievement standards and provide information to teachers, parents, and students on the progress being made toward meeting student academic achievement standards;
- b) assist in diagnosis, teaching, and learning in the classroom in ways that best enable low-achieving students to meet State student achievement academic standards and do well in the local curriculum;
- c) determine what revisions are needed to projects under this part so that such children meet the State student academic achievement standards; and
- d) identify effectively students who may be at risk for reading failure or who are having difficulty reading, through the use of screening, diagnostic, and classroom-based instructional reading assessments.

If the LEA uses such assessments in addition to State Academic assessments, please provide a succinct description below, and indicate grade levels and students served with such assessments.

Also, please describe any other indicators that will be used in addition to the academic indicators described in Section 1111 for the uses described in that Section.

Performance Goal 1: All students will reach high standards, at a minimum, attaining proficiency or better in reading and mathematics, by 2016-17.

Planned Improvement in Programs for LEP Students and Immigrants (Title III)
 (Summarize information from district-operated programs and approved school-level plans)

	Description of how the LEA is meeting or plans to meet this requirement.
Required Activities 1. (Per Sec. 3116(b) of NCLB, this Plan must include the following: a. Describe the programs and activities to be developed, implemented, and administered under the subgrant; b. Describe how the LEA will use the subgrant funds to meet all annual measurable achievement objectives described in Section 3122; c. Describe how the LEA will hold elementary and secondary schools receiving funds under this subpart accountable for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ meeting the annual measurable achievement objectives described in Section 3122; ▪ making adequate yearly progress for limited-English-proficient students (Section 1111(b)(2)(B)); ▪ annually measuring the English proficiency of LEP students so that the students served develop English proficiency while meeting State Academic standards and student achievement (Section 1111(b)(1)); d. Describe how the LEA will promote parental and community participation in LEP programs.	HTeX does not intend to apply for Title III funds. a. HTeX has a teacher who is identified as our school level EL coordinator. HTH also created a new position beginning in 2015-2016, a village level EL coordinator. These faculty members at the site and village level will lead professional development related to English learning, support teachers in employing strategies to support ELs, and track the progress of ELs to make sure they are showing growth. The California English Language Development Standards focus on three different aspects of supporting English Learners. The first part, Interacting in Meaningful Ways, is best reached through student's participation in their content classrooms, i.e. integrated English Language Development. Through successful use of EL instructional strategies, English learners can practice the language through collaboration, interpretation and production of the English Language. This instruction will take place through daily lessons in English Language Development. The purpose of this instruction, Designated English Language Development, is to develop English language proficiency as rapidly and effectively as possible. Teachers will be guided by the California English Language Development Standards in planning their lessons. b. Funds will be used to pay for the EL Coordinator positions, and Parent workshop presenter fees, and Translation / Interpretation fees. c. A mixture of data informed instruction, systems thinking, and continuous improvement, improvement science is a promising practice for achieving quality outcomes at scale. High Tech High has begun implementing these practices throughout the organization to take on challenging, persistent problems of practice. Projects thus far have focused on topics such as the college application process, work completion, and equitable participation during collaborative group work. The Director monitors the LEP student placement; ensures appropriate teacher authorizations; visits classrooms regularly to monitor ELD and SDAIE lesson implementation; schedules and attends English Learner Advisory Committee (ELAC) meetings; and ensures implementation of District plans to meet the language and academic needs of the EL students. Improvement research draws upon several tools for facilitating this ongoing improvement by people in the system including the driver diagram and the Plan-Do-Study-Act cycle (PDSA). High Tech High has just launched an improvement project focused on literacy with a particular focus on EL students. The organization wide EL coordinator will have the responsibility to lead and monitor this project. Next steps include development of an organization wide driver diagram (theory of action), implementation of a data sharing plan, and organization of the school level EL coordinators to implement change ideas and constant monitoring of effectiveness of these ideas. While the project has just begun, it will include monitoring data such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● CELDT scores for all ELs ● Progression of Long Term ELs ● ELs earning a C or below in core academic classes d. To encourage parent participation LEP programs, the HTe Director will send regular communication about available trainings, family literacy activities and parent workshops. The Director, the Site Manager and several faculty at various grade levels are fluent in Spanish and available to support parents who speak Spanish at home at any time. Funds will be used to provide childcare services for parent conferences, and/or major parent involvement events. In addition, funds may be used to sponsor Parent Involvement School Activities such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Working with your student at home (reading & math) ● Monitoring homework and Improving Study Habits ● Effective Communications and Interactions with School Staff ● Positive Discipline

2. Describe how the LEA will provide high quality language instruction based on scientifically based research (per Sec. 3115(c) . The effectiveness of the LEP programs will be determined by the increase in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • English proficiency; and • Academic achievement in the core academic subjects 	EMBEDDED PEDAGOGICAL SUPPORTS At High Tech High (HTH), teachers engage all students in deeper learning through a project-based curriculum. Embedded within this project-based learning (PBL) approach are many pedagogical practices which are informed by and aligned with theories of English language acquisition. Some of the following theories inform our work: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Merrill Swain's work highlights the importance of meaningful output. According to Swain, meaningful output is central to language acquisition because it provides learners with opportunities to work with developing language in contextualized, meaningful situations. In our project-based setting, ELs have rich context and authentic purposes for their interactions. They regularly engage in group tasks which allow them to negotiate meaning and produce meaningful output in English. In short, our students are constantly engaged in conversations with peers and teachers that foster meaningful output. • Researcher Jim Cummins underscores the importance of embedding academic language in context, making academically demanding content easier for English learners (ELs) to understand. Through the hands-on learning that happens in all HTH schools, academic content is regularly embedded in rich context. Students frequently engage in hands-on learning, with materials, tools, and manipulatives that give ELs context for their academic learning. • Stephen Krashen asserted that learners have an affective filter that influences how much learning can take place. Students who have high learner anxiety, low self-confidence, and low motivation are said to have high affective filters that can prevent them from learning. English learners are especially prone to having a high affective filter. At HTH, our small class size, the design principle of personalization, as well as our focus on social-emotional learning, creates a school culture in which our ELs can experience a lower affective filter, making the learning more accessible to them. In addition, the high motivation that results from engaging in PBL also reduces this filter for ELs. • Krashen also hypothesized that English learning requires comprehensible input--meaningful input based on real communication that is immediately comprehensible to the language learner. His theory is represented by the formula $i + 1$, with the "i" representing the input and "+1" representing the next level where language is advanced just enough so that the learner is challenged but able to learn. Embedded within our classrooms are ample opportunities for students to receive comprehensible input. English learners are strategically grouped with peers who can provide this $i + 1$ input. In addition, teachers differentiate reading selections to be comprehensible to English learners. Because our teachers most often use web resources and authentic texts (rather than textbooks), they can select the appropriate texts for emerging readers. Programs such as Newsela, Simple English Wikipedia, and other student-friendly resources are often used to support this differentiation.
3. Provide high quality professional development for classroom teachers, principals, administrators, and other school or community-based personnel. a. designed to improve the instruction and assessment of LEP children; b. designed to enhance the ability of teachers to understand and use curricula, assessment measures, and instruction strategies for limited-English-proficient students; c. based on scientifically based research demonstrating the effectiveness of the professional development in increasing children's English proficiency or substantially increasing the teachers' subject matter knowledge, teaching knowledge, and teaching skills; d. long term effect will result in positive and lasting impact on teacher performance in the classroom.	a-d. To meet the needs of EL students at all proficiency levels all teachers will train in a comprehensive standards/researched-based, high quality EL Professional Development Coaching to utilize effective instructional theory and strategies for second language acquisition, accelerating English Fluency and developing systematically academic English proficiency for English Learners. Title III funds will be used to implement identified professional development activities that integrate current research and scientifically-based theory. Components of the professional development program will include but not limited to: Teachers receive ongoing professional development on serving English Learners in a number of ways. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Teachers earning a preliminary teaching credential through the HTH teacher intern credentialing program (roughly half of new HTH teaches) complete a CCTC approved course entitled "Preparation to Teach English Language Learners." In this course, new teachers learn strategies to help ensure the success of English language learners in an academic environment. They examine the theoretical perspectives of second language acquisition, explore teaching strategies for English language learners, and practice applying such strategies in a project-based learning environment. 2. All teachers in their first two years receive Induction support which includes a module on teaching English Learners. 3. New teachers receive ongoing coaching from an instructional coach trained in teaching English Learners. 4. New teachers arrive three weeks before the start of school for an Odyssey experience aimed at developing their understanding of HTH teaching practices, including practices aimed at supporting ELs. 5. Returning teachers arrive eight days before the start of school every year for on-going professional development including support for meeting the needs of ELs. All teachers participate in morning or afternoon meetings every week throughout the year focused on professional development for improving teaching practices.

Planned Improvements for Professional Development (Title II)
 (Summarize information from district-operated programs and approved school-level plans)

Please provide a description of:	Persons Involved/ Timeline	Related Expenditures	Estimated Cost	Funding Source
1. How the professional development activities are aligned with the State’s challenging academic content standards and student academic achievement standards, State assessments, and the curricula and programs tied to the standards: The primary focus for High Tech Elementary Explorer’s professional development has been strong project design and building a positive school-wide culture. The majority of professional development sessions address the design and implementation of interdisciplinary Common Core-aligned projects in Literacy, Math, Science and Social Science), Teachers plan the curriculum content, instructional practices and assessment components in each project. Projects are tuned at least three times annually, to strengthen content outcomes, specifically in reading, math and science. During the project tuning professional development sessions, teachers examine expected content standards and align lessons to address expectations for the grade level, e.g. the NGSS Conceptual Flow process was recently used to support deeper content alignment of 2nd semester projects.	Director Faculty August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021	Director and staff time are included in base salary.
2. How the activities will be based on a review of scientifically based research and an explanation of why the activities are expected to improve student academic achievement: The professional development activities are designed to address current student needs, instead of generalized “best practices”. Our professional study evolves over the course of the year, based on observed student needs. We expect to improve student academic achievement because we have been responsive to and met the student needs. All professional study includes a review and discussion of recent scientifically-based research to inform our decisions about specific teaching practices.	Director Faculty August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021

3. How the activities will have a substantial, measurable, and positive impact on student academic achievement and how the activities will be used as part of a broader strategy to eliminate the achievement gap that separates low-income and minority students from other students: The professional development activities will have a substantial, measurable, and positive impact on student academic achievement because a cohesive instructional delivery will emerge from the collaborative work across all grade levels. HTeX's Director and Faculty intentionally look for opportunities to consider Equity - in materials, access to those materials, and delivery of information.	Director Faculty August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021
4. How the LEA will coordinate professional development activities authorized under Title II, Part A, Subpart 2 with professional development activities provided through other Federal, State, and local programs: By developing a single plan, all professional development training, practice and reflection will be connected to support the ongoing cost and sustainability of the professional development plan.	Director Faculty August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021	See Previous Professional Development Sections
5. The professional development activities that will be made available to teachers and principals and how the LEA will ensure that professional development (which may include teacher mentoring) needs of teachers and principals will be met: Teachers will participate in a variety of professional development activities including <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● grade-level collaboration ● collegial coaching sessions ● educational webinars and MOOCs ● workshops given by master teachers ● local and national educational practices conferences HTeX's Director will be responsible for meeting frequently with teachers to monitor the implementation of practices introduced in professional development sessions. Exit slips and Staff surveys will also provide data regarding PD effectiveness to the Director.	Director Faculty August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021	See Previous Professional Development Sections

6. How the LEA will integrate funds under this subpart with funds received under part D that are used for professional development to train teachers to integrate technology into curricula and instruction to improve teaching, learning, and technology literacy: There are no Prop D funds available.	Director Faculty IT Staff August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021			NO TITLE II, PART D IS AVAILABLE TO THIS SCHOOL
7. How students and teachers will have increased access to technology; and how ongoing sustained professional development for teachers, administrators, and school library media personnel will be provided in the effective use of technology. (Note: A minimum of 25% of the Title II, Part D Enhancing Education through Technology funding must be spent on professional development. High Tech Elementary Explorer teachers are each equipped with a laptop computers for daily instruction and planning. The device to student ratio is 1:1 in grades 2-5 and 2:1 in grades K-1. All classrooms have wifi access. All devices in the school are networked and have access to internet, printers, and copiers. Extremely competent IT staff is onsite to train teachers in learning how to use the most current applications and online resources.	Director Faculty IT Staff August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021			NO TITLE II, PART D IS AVAILABLE TO THIS SCHOOL
8. How the LEA, teachers, paraprofessionals, principals, other relevant school personnel, and parents have collaborated in the planning of professional development activities and in the preparation of the LEA Plan: The professional development plan is developed each year with the input of faculty. A faculty-led professional development committee works with the director to design the plan. In addition, annual surveys of the faculty are administered and the data generated is used to inform subsequent revisions to the LEA's professional development activities.	Director Faculty August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2020			NO TITLE II, PART D IS AVAILABLE TO THIS SCHOOL
1) How the LEA will provide training to enable teachers to: a. Teach and address the needs of students with different learning styles, particularly students with	Director Faculty			NO TITLE II, PART D IS AVAILABLE TO

Improve student behavior in the classroom and identify early and appropriate interventions to help all students learn; c. Involve parents in their child’s education; and d. Understand and use data and assessments to improve classroom practice and student learning. Over the course of the school year, HTeX’s Professional Development activities will address teacher practice in the following areas listed below. These areas will be reflected in the Professional Development Agendas. Master teachers, Special Ed teachers and other professionals may support the PD planned in the specific area related to their field. a. addressing the needs of students with different learning styles, particularly students with disabilities, students with special learning needs (including students who are gifted and talented) b. addressing the needs of students who are English Learners Improving student behaviors and engagement c. identification of early and appropriate interventions to help all students learn; d. ways to engage parents in their child’s education e. using data and assessments to improve classroom practice and student learning.	August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021			THIS SCHOOL
9. How the LEA will use funds under this subpart to meet the requirements of Section 1119: All HTeX Teachers will all have valid credentials for teaching in California. The LEA will use funds to support meeting the credentialing requirements. High Tech High offers an accredited Intern Credentialing Program to ensure the credentials of all of its own teachers as well as improve training for teachers around the state.	Director HTH Credentialing Office August 29, 2016 through June 30, 2021			NO TITLE II, PART D IS AVAILABLE TO THIS SCHOOL

Performance Goal 4: All students will be educated in learning environments that are safe, drug-free, and conducive to learning.

Environments Conducive to Learning (Strengths and Needs):

Please provide a list of the LEA’s strengths and needs regarding how students are supported physically, socially, emotionally, intellectually, and psychologically in environments that are conducive to learning, along with the LEA’s strengths and needs regarding student barriers to learning (e.g., attendance, mobility, and behavior).

STRENGTHS	NEEDS
The High Tech Elementary Explorer school campus provides a safe and orderly environment that nurtures learning. The clean well-kept environment fosters pride, efficiency and aesthetics which contribute to the overall positive learning atmosphere for students. Because this is a school of choice and students are invited back each year, the culture at the school is highly committed and motivated. Class sizes are small so that teachers and students can develop deep trust and caring. Teachers have the ability to know an individual child’s strengths and the areas that child needs support and nurturing. Misconduct results in a loss of trust and students are taught social tools to repair the relationships. HTeX teachers are trained in social emotional learning strategies, such as Second Step and Restorative Justice. Teachers weave these strategies through their classroom instruction to build classroom communities that are caring, respectful, and child-centered.	Teachers need additional skills in Restorative Justice practices, Responsive Classroom techniques. Professional texts such as Teaching with Love and Logic could be useful in guiding coaching conversations with teachers who are struggling with difficult to reach students. Students whose needs extend beyond the school walls need access to trained professional counselors and psychologists to support the child’s development of a whole self.

Environments Conducive to Learning (Activities):

Please list the activities or programs supported by all NCLB or state funded programs that the LEA will implement to support students physically, socially, emotionally, intellectually, and psychologically in environments that are conducive to learning. Include programs and strategies designed to address students' barriers to learning (e.g. attendance and behavior). Include a copy of the LEA's code of conduct or policy regarding student behavior expectations.

ACTIVITIES
A) Small class sizes: Kindergarten and 1st grade, 2:22 2nd-5th grade 1:24 B) HTeX Before and After School Care Program Morning care hours 7:30am – 9:05am After Care hours 3:40pm – 6:00pm C) Consultation with Licensed School/Child Psychologist (hourly) As requested by Director D) Consultation with Licensed Behavioral Specialist (hourly) As requested by Director E) Student Support Specialist with a MA in Counseling works individually with students in and outside of class

Needs and Strengths Assessment (4115(a)(1)(A)):

Based on data regarding the incidence of violence and alcohol, tobacco, and other drug use in the schools and communities to be served, and other qualitative data or information, provide a list of the LEA's strengths and needs related to preventing risk behaviors.

STRENGTHS	NEEDS
High Tech Elementary Explorer shares a campus with other HTH schools. The area schools have had a limited number of tobacco, alcohol, drug and violence related incidences.	High Tech Elementary Explorer will encourage and enforce a positive school climate. Director and Faculty will build relationships with community support systems for students. Director will continue to utilize attendance database to track student attendance.

Performance Goal 4: All students will be educated in learning environments that are safe, drug-free, and conducive to learning.

APPENDIX A

On May 30, 2002, the California State Board of Education (SBE) adopted the five goals and 12 performance indicators for No Child Left Behind, as set forth in the Federal Register Notice of May 22, 2002. The SBE's adoption of the specified goals and performance indicators represents California's commitment to the development of an accountability system to achieve the goals of NCLB.

Collectively, NCLB's goals, performance indicators, and performance targets constitute California's framework for ESEA accountability. The framework provides the basis for the state's improvement efforts, informing policy decisions by the SBE and implementation efforts by the California Department of Education (CDE) to fully realize the system envisioned by NCLB; it also provides a basis for coordination with the State Legislature and the Governor's Office.

California's NCLB Performance Goals and Performance Indicators

Performance Goal 1: All students will reach high standards, at a minimum attaining proficiency or better in reading and mathematics, by 2015-2016.

- 1.1 Performance indicator: The percentage of students, in the aggregate and for each subgroup, who are above the proficient level in reading on the State's assessment. (These subgroups are those for which the ESEA requires State reporting, as identified in section 1111(h)(1)(C)(i).)
- 1.2 Performance indicator: The percentage of students, in the aggregate and in each subgroup, who are at or above the proficient level in mathematics on the State's assessment. (These subgroups are those for which the ESEA requires State reporting, as identified in section 1111(h)(C)(i).)
- 1.3 Performance indicator: The percentage of Title I schools that make adequate yearly progress.

Performance Goal 2: All limited-English-proficient students will become proficient in English and reach high academic standards, at a minimum attaining proficiency or better in reading/language arts and mathematics.

- 2.1. Performance indicator: The percentage of limited-English-proficient Students, determined by cohort, who have attained English proficiency by the end of the school year.
- 2.2 Performance indicator: The percentage of limited-English-proficient students who are at or above the proficient level in reading/language arts on the State's assessment, as reported for performance indicator 1.1.
- 2.3 Performance indicator: The percentage of limited-English-proficient students who are at or above the proficient level in mathematics on the State's assessment, as reported for performance indicator 1.2.

Performance Goal 3: By 2005-2006, all students will be taught by highly qualified teachers.

- 3.1 Performance indicator: The percentage of classes being taught by "highly qualified" teachers (as the term is defined in section 9101(23) of the ESEA), in the aggregate and in "high-poverty" schools (as the term is defined in section 1111(h)(1)(C)(viii) of the ESEA).

- 3.2 Performance indicator: The percentage of teachers receiving high-quality professional development. (See definition of “professional development” in section 9101(34).)
- 3.3 Performance indicator: The percentage of paraprofessionals (excluding those with sole duties as translators and parent involvement assistants) who are qualified. (See criteria in section 1119(c) and (d).)

Performance Goal 4: All students will be educated in learning environments that are safe, drug free, and conducive to learning.

- 4.1 Performance indicator: The percentage of persistently dangerous schools, as defined by the State.

Performance Goal 5: All students will graduate from high school.

- 5.1 Performance indicator: The percentage of students who graduate from high school, with a regular diploma:
- disaggregated by race, ethnicity, gender, disability status, migrant status, English proficiency, and status as economically disadvantaged; and,
 - calculated in the same manner as used in National Center for Education Statistics reports on Common Core of Data.
- 5.2 Performance indicator: The percentage of students who drop out of school:
- disaggregated by race, ethnicity, gender, disability status, migrant status, English proficiency, and status as economically disadvantaged; and
 - calculated in the same manner as used in National Center for Education Statistics reports on Common Core of Data.
