

High Tech High

Food and Nutrition Services Department

Payment Plan for Unpaid Meals

High Tech High understands that some families are not able to pay the entire balance of their child(ren)'s unpaid meal debt at one time. The Food and Nutrition Department will work with families to develop a payment plan to help families eliminate this debt during the school year.

If a parent/guardian deems it necessary, he/she may work with the Food and Nutrition Department to develop a payment plan for unpaid meal debt. Any payment plan developed jointly by the parent/guardian and the Food and Nutrition Department will include any previously accumulated negative balances accrued on a student's account, as well as unpaid meals owed for the current school year.

This payment plan is completely independent from High Tech High's process for determining a student's eligibility for Free or Reduced Price Meals (F/RPM) through the National School Lunch Program (NSLP).

The Food and Nutrition Department aims to limit the burden on the school budgets and classroom funds as much as possible. It is important for Food and Nutrition Services to make a significant effort to collect obligations that are owed to the school by its students and their families.

All of a student's unpaid meal debt – including those from the current year and previous years - must be paid in full before June 30.
